It was relatively an informal occasion designed to allow people to drop in and obtain first-hand information about the institution at their convenience.

The core objective behind this was to attract prospective students and their parents not only to familiarise with the current facilities available to the students but also to open the channel of communication between school staff and them. Overall, it was a good occasion for the guests to enter the school with a vision to receive information from various desks set up for their convenience.

These resource desks mainly included: Boys Wing, Girls Wing, Junior Wing and KG Wing, ETL (Education, Technology & Laboratory), FBA (Federal Board Affairs) & Science Laboratories.

They particularly appreciated the endeavours of the management and faculty in imparting quality education along with a host of co-curricular activities for the character building of the students. The remarks of all the guests were encouraging which will surely boost up the spirit of the institution.

Nargis Raza Otho, Principal PISQ, expressed her deep gratitude to all the guests for sparing their valuable time and giving a positive response and constructive feedback.
